The stock market has been active but feverish to-day, ttended with unusual excitement in Michigan Southern, "shorts" in which have been compelled to "corner their contracts at an enormous loss, owing to the scarcity cash stock and peremptory demands for its delivery.

The returns of the Bank of England for the week ending March 21 compare with the statement of the stock on account of Messrs. Groesbeck & Co., brokers. Petroleum and mining stocks are rather irregular, and several failures among the brokers have occurred during the last few days, owing to the fluctuations resulting from the failure of Culver, Penn & Co. and the banks dependent upon them, with which many of the oil com-panies kept accounts. The Bank of England return shows that the increased demand for money has led to an augmentation of £359, 726 in the bank's advance on private securities; and there have been, moreover, withdrawais of private deposits to the extent of nearly a quarter of a million. Owing chiefly, however, to the influx of £519,783 of govornment deposits, the reserve presents on balance a small increases. The addition—£127,903—to the coin and builton is about £78,000 in excess of the amount of the newly imported gold sent into the bank during the week, and from this it may be interest that there is still some tendency to a return of coin from the provinces. The amount of notes in circulation is £20,055,000, being an increase of £112,525, and the stock of builton in both departments is £14,455,523, showing an increase of £127,905 during the week.

Satterihwaite's London Circular thus refers to the Satterthwaite's London Circular thus refers to the market for American securities:

The advices of higher quotations for stocks and lower prowium on gold, received just after the publication of our last, had a very favorable effect on the London market for American securities, and both five-twenties and railroad shares were largely dealt in at enhanced quotations; the imprevement, however, has been almost entirely lost, owing to the approhension that the continental bourses might become unsettled by the political aspect of affairs in Germany, where American securities are largely dealt in, and have the effect of bringing large amounts on to this market. On the week United States five-twenties show a fractional advance, closing at 71½ a ½. Illinois shares, on the good report just received, are steady at 80, but Erica have given way $1, being last quoted at 55½ a ½. An important advance, amounting to ten per cent, has taken place in Virginia six per cent bonds, owing to the rumored proposal to fund the overdue coupons, preparatory to resuming payment of interest. Transactions in Atlantic and Great Western debentures have again been considerable; they close at 78 a 80 for large, and 80½ a 81½ for small. Consolidated mortage bonds have been more freely taken, and daily transactions are officially recorded from 72 to 74.

The bank return shows that it was impossible for bank as yet to reduce their rate of discount. The billon is only £127 000 more; the reserve of notes is a stantially the same, and the private securities—the counts, that is to say—are £350,000 greater, apprehend, however, that the value of money was we has week said, still tend downwards. A calderable sam of gold from Australia is due, conly detained by the easterly winds; the Oriet demand for bullion is very slack, and we may, the fore, soon hope for cheaper money. A law apprehence is the money market we might also wash for; but we do if we ought to expect it. The bulk of legit mate trad very sound, and many new companies, both finan companies and others, are in a satisfactory condition, at the same time, much of the so-called "finan-business of the last tiree years has been of a reckland heedless sort; many instances have already be made public, and we four there are others—periaps bad as any—yet to be divulged.	be de

The large increase of gold shown in the Bank of France return tended to strongthen the anti-spations of an early further increase of ease in the money market on this side, and concels opened this morning at a recovery of an eighth. Prices, however, were inherently as weak as ever, and a fall soon took place. The German dispute continues to exercise that kind of influence which is always observable when war is approhended, and which is usually found to be much great r before than after the event. At the same time the wild runh of the holders of finance and other shares to get rid of their property at any price, evidently in total innerance whether it is sound or unasend, has assumed increased intensity. The discount market is without alteration, and the demand at the bank to-day was of an average character.
